

Billionaire, Let's Divorce Novel Chapter 9 To 10

Chapter 9

When she said the word “again”, she almost gritted her teeth, as if she wanted to put the oak tree in her mouth and break it into pieces.

“Hello, butler.” Xiao Yue smirked.

Seeing the butler arrive, the concierge's face regained some color. To her, the arrival of the butler was a timely rain.

Suli said to the butler, “I just heard the scream again.”

Her tone of voice was not gentle when she said this. Instead, it carried a bit of a questioning tone. Last time, she had clearly heard that weird sound, but the butler had said she had misheard. He had told her not to say it out loud to avoid being laughed at by others! She almost believed it.

But this time, she definitely wouldn't be fooled by the steward!

It was clear from one look that this butler had no good intentions.

Last time, she had heard it all by herself. No one had testified, but this time, the three of them heard it together. Let's see how she would continue to argue.

The butler was not angry: “So? What are you trying to say? Do you want to go in and find out? “

“Right.” Zurich said expressionlessly.

The air smelled of gunpowder.

The steward thought for a while and smirked, “I advise you not to be too curious. This room is a secret location and no one is allowed to enter. If the young master finds out, so what if you're the Young Mistress? The punishment still has to be done! “

She had a smile on her face when she said this, but everyone could hear that this was a blatant threat!

Suri Oak clenched his fists, and many beads of sweat unconsciously formed on his forehead.

One had to say, the butler's threat was quite useful.

The gatekeeper had also said that Xing Beihan was the one who had forbidden her entry! In this place, the only person she couldn't afford to offend was Xing Beihan.

For the time being, she had to rely on him.

After all, his parents' illness had not yet been completely cured, and he didn't know how much money it would cost to continue. That illness could be said to be a bottomless pit, and only the Xing Family could fill that hole.

Su Li was silent for a moment before he bit his lips and said, "I understand."

Although he was unwilling, there was no other way. She bit her lower lip so hard that it turned white.

She felt the pain in her mouth, but she did not loosen her bite. It was as if she was biting that man instead of herself!

There must be something in there that couldn't be exposed, or else they wouldn't be so vigilant!

But who allowed her to be a weak person in this manor? I can't let my curiosity hurt me!

Although her curiosity was still aroused, she could only suppress it.

Hearing this, the steward nodded his head in satisfaction as a smile appeared on the corner of his mouth. At this moment, she had a feeling that she had defeated Su Li. So what if she was a Young Mistress? "It's just a baby machine that you bought.

She had watched the young master grow up, and the weight she held in his heart was no more than a child's play? When the time came, she would definitely teach this woman a lesson!

Su Li's expression was ugly, she pulled Xiao Yue up and said, "Xiao Yue, let's go."

Xiao Yue was confused, "Ah?" Leaving just like that? "But there hasn't been any ..."

"Don't talk, let's go!"

"Oh." Xiao Yue nodded obediently and ran off with Su Li.

"Why are we running so fast?"

"I don't want to stay there." said Quercus shuriensis.

The decorations of that place were very depressing. She was always afraid, and that terrifying sound would resound once again. With the housekeeper there, she was even more uncomfortable. That old witch made her very unhappy, especially when her calculating eyes were fixed on her.

After Su Li and Xiao Yue left, the butler coldly said, "This woman is too nosy, she is not fit to be Young Master at all. "In the future, I'll probably have to suffer quite a few beatings to be able to correct myself."

In this place, the most taboo thing was being nosy.

Everyone just had to do their own things. As for the rest, they didn't need to worry about it.

"Yeah, they're really too annoying. They've been pestering me for a long time." "By the way, what about the people inside?" She lowered her voice and carefully pointed at the black door.

"It's fine, it's normal to scream twice." The butler said expressionlessly, "I don't know when it will be the end." She looked up at the sky at a forty-five-degree angle and let out a long breath.

It was an eventful time, just in case, and she would get two more bodyguards to watch the door, to save herself the trouble.

The people in the room were extraordinary to the Young Master. As the most treasured person in the young master's life, the butler could not and absolutely could not make any mistakes!

When the day came when the Young Master's goal was achieved, he would definitely thank him with all his heart! No, it didn't matter even if the young master didn't thank him, as long as he was happy.

The housekeeper was almost sixty years old. She had no children, no husbands, no parents, no sisters. To her, Xing Beihan was the person she was closest to. In her heart, she had already treated him as her own child. She would be loyal to Xing Beihan for the rest of her life.

Towards that nosey young mistress, she was not worthy of the young master at all! For the sake of her young master, she would not let this kind of woman stay by his side for long!

She wasn't worthy!

The butler took a long breath, went to the door, and pressed the doorknob. The light from the corridor shone into the room, revealing tiny motes of dust floating in the air.

She carefully opened the door, afraid of making too much noise. When the door opened a crack wide enough for her to pass through, she stopped.

The steward walked in slowly, disappearing into the darkness ...

In the evening, after taking a bath, Quercus shuriensis came to the bed wearing a towel. She was about to pick up her pajamas when she realized something was wrong with them.

A closer look revealed that there was something like a snot on top of the oak tree. After confirming that it was a runny nose, the corners of her mouth curled up in disgust. She quickly threw her pajamas on the ground.

What was going on?

He shouldn't have washed his pajamas cleanly. It would have been better if he had put them on the bed. How could he have dirtied them?

The pajamas she had picked up were folded into a square. Someone had obviously done it on purpose. If it wasn't for her sharp eyes, she would have already worn it. How disgusting would that be!

"Xiao Yue Xiao Bing, come take a look!"

“What is it? What’s the matter? ” Xiao Yue ran over after washing her hands and asked happily while shaking the water off her hands.

Little Ice walked over slowly, his face full of impatience.

Suli oak pointed to the clothes on the ground and said, “What do you think happened here? Do you know who did it!? “

Xiao Yue took a look and said in surprise, “This... Heavens, what a filthy thing this was! How could there be such a thing on top of a good shirt! Little Bing, you’ve always been in charge of washing Young Mistress’ clothes! “

Little Ice pouted unhappily, and said coldly: “I’m just sending them to the dry cleaning room, as for how they did it, how would I know!”

Quercus had been listening to them with a frown.

“That happened within your jurisdiction. You see, I’m not happy about that either, right?”

“Hmph.” Little Bing snorted softly, her expression extremely smelly.

Chapter 10

Seeing Little Ice like this, Quercus shuriensis seemed to understand something. This Little Ice never liked her. It was unknown if it was due to her haughty personality or because she was being deliberately against her.

Su Li looked at Xiao Bing and said, “Xiao Bing, to be honest, do you know what’s going on?”

“I don’t know.”

“The marks on it were obviously made by someone on purpose,” said Suli. “Who hated me so much? You actually used such a small trick to disgust me! “

“Who knows? I’ll go wash these clothes and ask the people in the dry cleaning room how they did it.” Little Ice picked up the clothes on the floor and was about to leave. Was this woman trying to get to the bottom of this matter?

Xiao Yue stopped her, "What are you washing for? Hurry up and throw it away, it's not like our young master lacks money. "

"Then I'll throw it away?" Little Bing asked Quercus scutellaris.

"Throw it away." Su Li said blandly as he swallowed the qi that was stuck in his throat.

Even if they found out who did it, what could she do? She didn't have any real power in this family, which was why those servants dared to plot against her!

Fortunately, she found out. This was the luckiest part of her misfortune.

In the future, she would have to be on guard, lest more of this kind of thing happen.

Outside the manor, Little Ice threw his clothes into the trash can, and before he closed the garbage lid, he spat on his clothes in disgust.

She was lucky that she didn't disgust that woman this time! So what if it's Young Mistress? Wouldn't this sort of thing just end like this?

She worked hard every day, and she also had to send laundry to that damnable woman. She was asked to fold her clothes into a square and respectfully sent to him. Every time she did this, she felt extremely uncomfortable.

She was clearly no less beautiful than Quercus shuriensis, so how could she enjoy such a good treatment?

What was worse about her than that woman?

Little Bing did not understand! She hated Suli Oak extremely, she was just a person who sold her body in exchange for wealth! She despised her!

In the evening, she went to the dry cleaning room to get her clothes. When she saw the silk pajamas of the Suli oak, she felt very upset. She couldn't wear such fine clothes, and she wouldn't let that woman enjoy her happiness for nothing. At that time, she just happened to have a cold, so ...

Everything seemed to be logical and logical. Initially, he just wanted to make her feel disgusted, but he didn't expect her to be able to find out about it. He was lucky for her.

The next day, the sun rose.

The Suli oak got up early in the morning and found her head foggy. It was obvious that she had a cold.

The housekeeper was very sad about the cold. Although she wished to die soon, she was still in a special period. Perhaps she already had a baby in her womb, so catching a cold would be a big deal to the oak.

Soon, the butler sent for a doctor.

The doctor is a famous doctor in this city, young and capable, with excellent medical skills. I heard that he's only 25 years old, but he's already a famous professor of medicine, a miracle in the world of medicine.

It would be a waste for him to come and look at a little cold for Quercus shuriensis. However, the steward didn't think that he would need to hire the best doctor in the matter of the health of Suli Oak, and the Xing Family had the resources to invite him.

Oak Suli was forced to lie on the bed, covered with a quilt, with a bowl of jasmine flowers on the headboard.

Not long after, Doctor Duan Chen arrived.

He was carrying a medical kit and his assistant was following behind him. His assistant had an extraordinary appearance. Compared to Duan Chen, he was like heaven and earth.

Duan Chen had a very fair and clean appearance, as if he worked in the office all year round without being exposed to the sunlight. His skin and skin were like that of an infant's. He had a faint smile on his face the entire time, and his eyes were filled with gentleness, giving others a very comfortable feeling.

It was the first time that Suli oak had seen such a handsome guy. His heart couldn't help but jump and his ears were red.

No, no, you can't, you're a married woman now. Even if you haven't seen your husband's true appearance, you can't be drooling over another man's face like this!

Su Li oak so admonished himself, did his best to control, to appear calm.

Duan Chen had a faint smile as he walked over. He sat beside Su Li and started gently asking her questions!

"I'll take your temperature first." He smiled faintly.

His voice was very gentle, and his speech was clear and pleasant. It was pleasant to the point that it sounded like a professional broadcast host.

Zurich nodded and let him play.

She admitted that she was indeed obsessed.

At this moment, Duan Chen was extremely close to her and could clearly feel his breath, causing Su Li to unavoidably become nervous.

She observed Duan Chenshuang's appearance up close. His facial features were extremely gentle, and his eyes were clear and spirited. When he smiled, they were especially beautiful, just like the warmth of dawn.

If only her husband looked like this...

Su Li couldn't help but think. After realizing what she was thinking, she quickly hit her head as a sign of punishment.

Throughout the entire consultation, Duan Chen had been extremely gentle and refined. He paid close attention to Su Li's feelings all the time, as if he was afraid that she would feel uncomfortable.

This doctor was truly worthy of his reputation. Not to mention his medical skills, just his attitude and appearance was enough to heal a person's illness. Su Li sighed in his heart.

After every inspection was completed, Duan Chen gave a drop of water to the Quercus scutellosae.

“It’ll be all right soon, don’t worry.” His voice was very gentle, almost intoxicating.

“Yes, yes.” Suri oak nodded with a smile.

She had seen a doctor countless times before, but this was the most unforgettable and comfortable time for her. Where can I see a doctor? He was clearly here to enjoy it!

A few days later, Suli Oak was fully recovered. She asked the servant, Duan Chen, by her side, when would he return?

The servant said you were well and he would not come.

After hearing this, Su Li’s oak tree was slightly disappointed. They had only met once, so how could they meet again in the future? That’s right, she couldn’t leave the manor without Xing Beihan’s permission. Even if she did, she wouldn’t know where to look for Duan Chen Jing.

With some resentment in his heart, Quercus shook his head, trying to shake the uncomfortable feeling out of his head.

She told herself: Oak Suli, you are a married woman now. Do not think about this? Even if the doctor was gentle, gentle, elegant, and handsome, it would be impossible between the two of you! You have to be loyal to your husband.

Time passed quickly. It had been almost half a month since Quercus shuriensis had married. As she was watching TV, she suddenly felt a warm sensation on her lower body. Without thinking, she ran over to Xiao Yue and asked her to borrow a sanitary towel.

Xiao Yue gave it to her without a word.

As it happened, this action was seen by the butler. The butler’s face was livid as he questioned, “Did you come to that one?”

“Which one?”
